

GRAMA Notice of Denial Form

used to deny access to records or deny a request for a fee waiver.

Notes: As provided in Utah Code § 63G-2-201(5)(6), governmental entities may not disclose records to unauthorized persons if the records are properly classified as private, controlled, or protected, or if access to them is limited by another rule or statute. Utah Code § 63G-2-205(1)(2) states that if the governmental entity denies the request in whole or part, it shall provide a notice of denial. The notice shall contain:

- a description of the record to which access is being denied (unless the description discloses restricted information)
- the legal citation upon which access denial is based (unless the citation discloses restricted information)
- a statement that the requester has the right to appeal as well as details about time limits and the name and business address of the chief administrative officer to whom the appeal should be made.
